Summary

★ You can find me at the intersection of Design & Development.

→ Having had a childhood geared towards creating Art, and playing with Computers.. I now dedicate my time to becoming a Unicorn for the IT industry; an empathetic, sociable, user-design oriented individual, disciplined in all things development and engineering.

- Reach out if you're interested in hiring me for freelance work, would like to collaborate, or have a job offer at a growing startup. Thank you for your time, stay safe, and be well!
